Gospel Meditation 25th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"And the master commended that dishonest steward for acting prudently." It's important to pay attention to the details of the parable Jesus tells in today's Gospel. At first glance, it might seem as if Jesus is encouraging us to be dishonest. But in fact, it's just the opposite. The steward in this tale was reported to his master "for squandering his property." In other words, the steward was not being responsible with what he was in charge of. And the master was ready to fire him on account of it. But then, the steward had a change of heart. (This isn't so hard to comprehend--sometimes it takes a real threat for us to realize we need to change our ways, doesn't it?) So the steward went to the people from whom he had previously collected money to "make friends" with them. How? By reducing their debts. This might seem to be dishonest yet again, but we need to bear in mind that in the end, the master was pleased with the steward's behavior. So this debt reduction must not have affected the master's pocketbook. Rather, it seems probable that the steward had originally hiked up what the debtors owed the master and put the extra cash in his own pocket. This was the sort of extortion that was common in those days, among tax collectors for example. Now, when the steward was about to lose his position, he thought it wise to go back and return that "dishonest wealth" to the folks who had lost it, and gain some sympathy in the process. So, in the end, the steward was making up for his previous cheating behavior by doing something RIGHT and smart. It's this honest behavior that will enable him to take his place in "eternal dwellings." And surely our honest behavior will have the same effect.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC TRADITIONS EXPLAINED

Question: The third Sunday of September is referred to as Catechetical Sunday. What is the meaning of that term and why do we celebrate Catechetical Sunday?

"Catechesis" comes from a Greek word meaning "to echo." It challenges all of us to develop a Catholic identity modeled on Jesus. We learn this from those who handed down that faith to us. We echo that back by the living example of our lives. Catechesis is handing down that tradition to others, hoping they can echo that back in their own lives. The presumption is that we do have something to hand on; this calls each of us to grow in faith and knowledge, and to share that with others. The mission of the church reflects the mission of Jesus to teach, preach, heal, and forgive. The task of handing on the Gospel is entrusted to the whole community who, by word and example, form young and new members in the way of the Gospel. This ministry reminds the church that preaching the Gospel and growing in faith are essential to our sacramental practice and our liturgical prayer. On this Sunday, each of us is called to renew our own commitment to grow in faith and knowledge, taking seriously our mission together as the pilgrim people of God. Whether or not we literally teach, all of us are teachers in the way we live. What are we echoing?

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

The prophets always challenge us to see as God sees. It is as important to put as much time and effort into the matters of God as it is into matters of self-interest and personal affairs. We cannot serve two masters and when we choose to serve God we also realize that we must serve the needs of others, especially the poorest and most in need.
